

SUPPORT THE FOUNDATION FOR CRIMINAL JUSTICE

The Foundation for Criminal Justice (FCJ) assists the National Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers (NACDL) with resource development and the enhancement of its programs through the philanthropy of its membership, law firms, interested corporations and foundations, as well as the wider public. The Foundation is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization, and financial contributions to FCJ are tax deductible to the fullest extent of the law.

Outright Gifts

Checks can be made payable to the Foundation for Criminal Justice 1660 L Street NW, 12th Floor, Washington, DC 20036. Please note "NACDL Campaign" in the memo line. Outright gifts are tax deductible.

Pledges

Donors to the Foundation for Criminal Justice can make a pledge and pay their gift over time. Pledge payment periods of up to five years are accepted, and the Foundation will work with you to arrange an appropriate payment schedule. Only payments made on pledges are tax deductible.

Gifts of Stocks and Securities

Do you have appreciated stocks or securities? Want to avoid paying capital gains tax while making a charitable contribution? Donating appreciated stocks or securities directly to the Foundation for Criminal Justice is an easy way to make a gift. You can receive a tax deduction and you can avoid capital gains taxes, too.

When transferring stocks or securities directly to the Foundation for Criminal Justice, have your broker or financial advisor contact:

Merrill Lynch
DTC # 5198
Credit to: 519-04464
Account name: Foundation for Criminal Justice

You will receive an acknowledgement from the Foundation when the transferred stocks are received indicating the mean stock value on the date the asset is transferred. Your financial advisor or accountant can provide you with information regarding the tax deductibility of this type of gift.

This method of giving is typically most appropriate with appreciated assets. If you have realized a loss on certain assets, sell those stocks or securities first. Always talk to your broker or financial advisor before making a gift of securities and find out what is best for you and your situation.

If you would prefer to physically deliver securities, please contact Tom Chambers at 202-872-8600, ext 225.

Honoraria and Speaker Fees

Do you have an upcoming speaking engagement? Remember that donating your honoraria to the Foundation is a simple way to support future initiatives. When asked, be sure to identify the Foundation for Criminal Justice as the charity to which you would like your honoraria to be donated. Asking your host to make a donation to the Foundation in your honor not only supports the foundation, it also furthers awareness of the Foundation and its important work.

Book Royalties

Book royalties in full or in part can be donated to the Foundation. This is a great way to not only support the Foundation's work, but also to promote your book. Make a gift once you have received your royalties or make arrangements through your publisher to have a donation sent directly to the Foundation. If you wish to make a gift equal to your royalty payment, be sure to tell your publisher, so your charitable support can be mentioned in the marketing of your book. For more information, contact the Foundation's staff.

Special note: Gifts of contributed honoraria or book royalties will be counted toward the donor's recognition total so that FCJ can acknowledge your charitable intentions. All gifts, however, will be formally credited to the actual individual or entity making the contribution.

Estate Planning and Other Special Gifts

You can leave a lasting impact on NACDL's work in the criminal defense bar through a will, charitable trust or gift of insurance. The process is straightforward, your gift will benefit the Foundation for years to come, and there may be tax advantages for you. There are many ways to create a planned gift through real estate, bequests, charitable remainder trusts and other gifts that provide both you and the Foundation for Criminal Justice with income.

Talk to your personal financial advisor to develop a plan that works best for you. Contact the Foundation staff for simple language that can be added to any will to ensure that the Foundation for Criminal Justice is included in your basic estate plans. Be sure to let us know that you have made these arrangements so we can recognize your generosity.

The staff at the Foundation for Criminal Justice and NACDL is ready to work with you and your advisors to develop a gift opportunity that meets your needs and helps you to achieve your financial and philanthropic goals.

 For outright gifts and pledge payments, the Foundation for Criminal Justice accepts credit cards: VISA, MasterCard, Discover and American Express. Please provide the type of card, card number, expiration date and name as it appears on the credit card, along with the amount you wish to charge.