Are you a Facebook expert? Know the difference between Twitter and Tumblr? Do you know where text messages and voicemails are stored? If you answered "No" to any of these questions then you must watch this one hour presentation. This presentation will educate you on the use of social networking sites, cell phone records and internet based information systems in the defense of a criminal case. Practical applications and legal considerations of the evidence will be explored during the program. After viewing this presentation, you will understand how to find information on social networks including Facebook and YouTube and how to use it effectively in your cases. This presentation is a must-have for anyone not familiar with cell phone and internet evidence.

Presented by:
William Gallagher
Cincinnati, OH

After seven successful years as a trial attorney in the Lake and Cook County Public Defender Offices in Illinois, Gallagher moved to Cincinnati where he now confines his practice to criminal cases in both state and federal courts. In addition to the many jury trial victories, Mr. Gallagher has tried 13 Capital Murder trials in three different states with none of his clients receiving the death penalty. Currently, Mr. Gallagher is one of only a few local lawyers in private practice handling federal Habeas Corpus litigation. Mr. Gallagher is a past president of the Greater Cincinnati Criminal Defense Lawyers Association. He is a past member of the Board of Directors of the Ohio Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers and the current Chair of the CLE Institute for the National Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers. Mr. Gallagher is a frequent presenter on a variety of topics relating to criminal defense. Mr. Gallagher is a past adjunct faculty member at DePaul University Law School and is currently on the Adjunct faculty at the University of Cincinnati Law School. He has taught in the areas of Ethics, Trial Advocacy, and Forensic Sciences. In 2011, Mr. Gallagher was awarded the Robert Heeney Memorial Award by the National Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers. It is their most prestigious award given to the attorney who provides outstanding contributions to the profession.
