E.G. Morris joins board of directors of nation's top criminal defense organization

Washington D.C. — E.G. “Gerry” Morris, a defense attorney in Austin, was installed on the board of directors of the National Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers at the annual meeting last week in Denver.

Morris is deeply involved in the organization, presently chairing both the Council of Affiliates Committee and the Discovery Reform Committee. He is a past president of the Texas Criminal Defense Lawyers Association and a member of the Travis County Bar Association. Morris has been board certified in criminal law by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization. A practicing lawyer for over 25 years, he has been recognized in “Best Lawyers in America.”

Morris received his law degree from the University of Texas. He currently practices law at Morris & Florey, L.L.P., a firm devoted to criminal defense, including grand jury investigations, trials and appeals in federal and state court.
