August 6, 2003--FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Lisa M. Wayne installed on top national criminal defense organization's board of directors

Washington D.C. — Lisa M. Wayne, a defense attorney in Denver, CO, was sworn in to her second term as a member of the board of directors of the National Association of Criminal Defense Lawyers at the annual meeting last week in Denver.

Wayne, a life member of the organization, currently serves as co-chair of its Indigent Defense Committee. She is an adjunct professor at the University of Colorado where she teaches trial advocacy, and she serves on the faculty for the Trial Practice Institute at Harvard Law School and Cardozo Law School. Before entering private practice, Wayne was a senior trial attorney with the Denver trial office of the Colorado State Public Defender.

Wayne lectures nationally with NACDL, NCDC, NITA, ATLA and various other organizations. She graduated from the University of Colorado and Pepperdine University Law School.
